OUR SUNDAY LAWS .- We shall be obliged remarks we intended to make on the above subject.

Ir is curious to notice how great minds agree. "Vox Populi's" attack on the editor of the Gazette reminds the Advertiser (so that journal tells us) " of the man who was kicked by a mule." Now that is just what it reminds us of. Singular coincidence, isn't it. The Alliciani Hale, Sir Lois, situate in Anaskai, Walkiki, parallel is rendered more perfect from the fact Oatm and containing respectively 225-1930 acres, 208,1000 that in the case mentioned by the Advertiser, the mule was the only one hurt, which was precisely the result which followed when "Vox Populi" kicked us. The "man" is happy to announce that he is unburt. Those who are desirous of knowing how the other party to the contest fared, must apply at the Advertiser's menagerie.

Ir will be seen by reference to the item below that Mr. Walter M. Gibson is again agitating the question of a Hawaiian Centennial in 1878. We should be glad to have Mr. Gibson inspire our leading men, both native and foreign, with some of his own interest and Hawailan Government Bonds, in denominations of $100.

$200, $200, $2000, and $5000, bearing interest of seven per enthusiasm on this subject. Not being a great nation, of course we cannot have a great celebration, but no country can have any event in its history of greater relative importance than the bringing of these islands to the knowledg of the civilized world by Capt, Cook in 1778 We should like to see the Centennial of that, to us at least, important event, suitably com-

THE CENTENNIAL OF DISCOVERY .- On the occaion of the celebration of His Majesty's Birthday a Lahaina on the 16th inst., Mr. Gibson of Lana being called upon by Governor Mochonna to address a meeting of the people at Waince Church, made an earnest appeal to native Hawaiians in their own lauguage to make some preparation for the celebration in 1878 of the hundredth anniversary of the most notable event in the history of their archipelago. He presumed that they would be more interested in celebrating the Centennial of the entire medical and surgical practice of the foundation of the Hawaiian Monarchy, which was but a few years subsequent to discovery. Yet the latter event, or the celebration of its Centennial should now claim the highest consideration at the hands of Hawaliaus. States like individuals received consideration from the Importance and eclar attached to the commemoration of their natal and field of study and practice, which the hospital other festal days. A liberal and enlightened celebration of the Centencial of Discovery in 1878. would contribute largely to Hawaiian credit abroad, and go far to increase the favorable consideration of this little Kingdom, and in so much contribute to the present system is one decidedly unfavorthe permanence of Hawaiian Independence. Mr. able to the highest usefulness of the hospital Gibson was well assured that King Kalakana enter- and certainly not calculated to promote the tained most collightened and advanced views in best interests of the public generally. the speaker prayed that he and his hearers might be spared to witness a celebration of the Centensial of the foundation of the Monarchy, which perhaps should date from the recognition by Kaumualii King of Kanai of the suzerainty of Kamehamebs,-during the reign of His Majesty upon the Throne-who was the seventh in succession from the Conqueror. After further discourse by Governor Mochonus and others during the day, it was understood that Labsius might be pledged for a ontribution of one thousand dollars towards a memorial Centennial building, that should be asked for a permanent Hawaiian Museum.

WE notice that the Advertiser in its last issue, announces its intention of withdrawing from any further discussion of the Sunday law question. Concerning the reasons which our contemporary gives for this determination we of that matter for themselves. We can honest ly say, however, that we are very sorry that the Advertiser has come to this conclusion. We believe that a satisfactory settlement of public questions can be best reached by a full and free discussion. In the part we have taken in the matter thus far, we have been actuated by no motive whatever except to bring out the truth, and we should be glad to have the assistance and co-operation of the Advertiser in that undertaking. In its last rumber, that journal says: "We " hardly think that any very numerous body of this community can really be got to en-"dorse the six sections so categorically laid "down by the writer in the Gazette, as an ex-" position of their views on the legislatorial 'aspect of enforced Sabattic observance." We should be pleased to have the Advertiser point out which, if any of the sections "so categorically laid down" it objects to, and to have it state the grounds of its objections. The editor of that journal is well aware that we never object to any fair criticism of any views we express on any subject, but we will not insult his intelligence, by supposing for a moment, that he can consider such communications as "Vox Populi" and "What does it amount to," in last Saturday's Advertiser, as coming under the head of criticism or discussion at all.

The Advertiser ought to be aware that it has nothing to gain, but a great deal to lose, by bringing offensive personalities into a discussion of this kind. It is an example which we did not set and which we do not propose to follow. We have felt called upon, however, from time to time, to deal pretty sharply | ly and readily adjusted and arranged. I dewith certain communications which have apsion to do so in the future. We have no taste for newspaper controversies, but when annonymous correspondents, not only misrepresent our views, but indulge in positive and CITIZENS AND RESIDEATS OF HONO.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE. No. 1 The Medical and Surgical Monopoly at the Queen's Hospital.

It is my purpose to publish in the columns of the Gazette, a series of papers upon certain which my professional education and training entitle me to speak with some degree of au-OUEEN'S HOSPITAL.

In the first place I would remark that the benefit of the medical profession, and through them for the benefit of the entire community: mount and controlling, their secondary tunc-only, or even chiefly, by whom these facili- bond carcelled. whose names are known and whose authority the large cities of Europe and America, and that, too, entirely without compensation.

In the part of the world where I had the honor to receive my professional education, a number of medical men are always associated together in the management of every large public hospital. The putting of an institution of this kind under the exclusive control of any one man, is something which no Hospital Board would attempt, and to which, even

In the comparative isolation of professional life in these islands, cut off entirely from the vast advantages afforded by the hospitals and dispensaries of older and larger communities, and cut off moreover from other professional advantages not necessary to be here specified; both justice and expediency unite in demanding that such facilities of this kind as the comparatively limited resources of this country do afford, should be made as free as possible to those practitioners desiring to avail themselves thereof. The peculiarity of the circumstances in which we are here placed, calls for the exercise of the largest liberality in such matters. Now what is the policy which actually does prevail? Under the present arrangement, the only public hospital in the country is made a virtual monopoly in the hands of one man, who, in addition to the liberal remuneration received for his services, reaps the exclusive advantage to be derived from the extensive for $100. Payment stopped at Hank of Bishop & Co. affords. I have no hesitation in saying, that leaving out of account altogether the question of justice and courtesy to other physicians,

So far as the welfare of the patients is concerned, the practical effect of the present system is to deprive them of the benefit of the united judgment and skill of several physicians, which they might easily have, and confines them instead, to the comparatively limited resources of one. I have, moreover, abundant reasons for asserting most positively that the popularity of the hospital can be greatly increased and its ministrations made much more acceptable to the class for whom it is chiefly intended, by an enlargement of its medical staff. Concerning the interest which the public have in this matter, I consider it only necessary to suggest that it is the manifest interest of every member of this community, that the men in whose hands have nothing to say. Our readers can judge the life and health of themselves and families are liable at any moment to be placed, shall have granted them every possible facility for improvement in their arduous, responsible and difficult calling. This, the present system of monopoly, effectually denies and prevents. That system being unjust and injurious alike to the patients, to the members of the medical profession and The Premises in Kapalama, to the public at large, I hereby, in the name of all the interests involved, ask for a reform.

It should be remembered that in asking for an increase in the medical and surgical staff of the hospital and the adoption of a more liberal policy toward physicians not officially connected therewith, I simply invite the Board of Trustees to put the institution in these respects, on the same basis which in other countries is fully recognized as being on the whole the most desirable. I feel assured that a majority of the members of the Board, The above offers a fine opportunity to any one wishing the fights previously satisfied. of all the interests involved, ask for a reform. that a majority of the members of the Board, honestly and earnestly desire the best interests of the hospital, regardless of any personal considerations whatever, and that they will be willing to adopt any measures and institute any reforms by which the efficiency of the institution can be increased, whenever those measures and reforms can be fairly brought to their notice and their true bearing and operation discussed and explained.

I am well aware that many objections will be raised and many difficulties suggested in the way of carrying out the proposed reform, but I cun confidently assure the Trustees, as the result of a personal familiarity with the the working of some of the largest and best hospitals in the United States, that all the various matters of detail involved, can be easisire, moreover, to state most distinctly that no increase whatever in the expenses of the hospital is either asked or desired. I regret that time and space do not allow me to more than outline the subject above indicated, or to present (and that imperfectly) more than a few of the facts and arguments bearing thereon. I trust, however, that what I have said may have the effect of directing the minds of the Trustees and of our publicspirited and philanthropic citizens, to the need of a reform in this matter, knowing, as I do, that whenever the question is fairly and candidly considered and acted upon, a change in the present system is inevitable.
